Class Ode

(TUNE: Wiffenpoof Song)

To the high school in Wiscasset.
To the place where laughter dwells
To the schooldays we will all remember well.

To the Seniors here assembled
Saying "farewell" and "goodbye"
As the sadness of this parting casts its spell.

Yes, the sadness of this parting, from the things we love so well
For our memories and our friends are of the best
Yes, we'll say farewell to schooldays, for we know they cannot last.

Then we'll pass and be forgotten with the rest!

Senior Class Trip

On Sunday nite, March 27, at approximately 8:20 (slightly detained by a certain Miss Greenleaf) we embarked upon "The Senior Class Trip." We were greeted by the Lincoln delegation, their chaperone, and Mrs. Witham. During the first hundred miles of the journey, quantities of pizza, rolls and potato chips were consumed, helped along by a solitary quart of chocolate milk — interrupting this was a brief stop at Portland, where coffee and cokes were served. Brief stop in Portsmouth for bus repairs. Driver lost in maze of New Haven roads — Mrs. Witham plays Good Samaritan, directs the lost soul. Leave New Haven. Finally — we've arrived ! We're actually in New York City — after four years and countless covered dish suppers, we ARE here. The girls are shown to rooms on the 5th floor, boys on the 2nd, in the Taft. Breakfast hastily consumed at the cafeteria, followed by departure on a tour of Rockefeller Center, on whose Observation Roof a group picture was taken. Then on to Radio City Music Hall, where we saw the movie "Glass Slipper," the awe-inspiring Easter Pageant, and the spectacular Rockettes. After dinner a group started for the Statue of Liberty, but missing the first boat, did a Cook's Tour of Wall Street — finally caught the ferry to Bedloe Island, where most of us climbed to the crown — the descent was slow and painful. That empty feeling had begun to hit us, so dinner seemed to be the next logical move — six of us, including Mrs. Witham, tripped down to the Grill Room in the hotel, where Vincent Lopez and orchestra made merry music. Mrs. Witham absorbed several raw clams, while we watched with interest for possible reactions — none. Thence on an NBC tour, where Elzada demonstrated sound effects. Back to the hotel at about 10:30, where a brief party was held in Mrs. Witham's room.

Tuesday a.m. at 5:30 a few brave and hardy souls tore themselves away from the comforts of home, and trekked down to the Dave Garroway Show. From 6:30 until an hour later, there we stood, and were finally rewarded when the camera turned our way — after being televised, we stayed a few minutes for courtesy's sake, and left. At about 8:00, the bus left for Washington — equipped with a swell driver (ask one of the girls — she's got his phone number). Stopped at Annapolis in the afternoon, and arrived at the Hotel Raleigh in Washington at about 4:30 where we were dispersed to our rooms — all on the same floor! That evening, with the exception of a few who went swimming, the group went to see Cinerama. Home again and a quiet evening. Next day: Mt. Vernon, home of George Washington.

Everyone was very much impressed with the beauty and charm of this typically Southern home; the furnishings, the outbuildings, and the gracious gardens. One of us wanted to buy it, but it was already deeded to a Lincoln boy. Following this, we were shown the Jefferson Memorial, renowned as site of Washington's symbolic cherry blossoms. That evening when at the top of the Washington Monument we could see these cherry trees bathed in colored lights — a truly beautiful sight.

At the FBI Building, our guide described various methods of crime detection, and explained factors which lead them to almost definite arrest of their quarry. Last stop in the building was a firearms and marksmanship exhibition — which convinced some that a life of crime wasn't for them! ! After dinner that nite, the tour continued, beginning at the Lincoln Memorial, where we observed the face of Lincoln portraying three different emotions: on one side determination, then happiness, and then sorrow. Leaving the Memorial, we went to the Ford Theater, place of Lincoln's assassination by Booth, the crazed Southern actor — here, although the place is no longer a theater, but rather a museum for chronicling Lincoln's life, the outlines of the stage and boxes were shown, with drawings of Booth's fleeing footsteps. Across the street from the theater stands the house where Lincoln died. The room in which his death occurred is furnished in copies or restorations of the actual furnishings. At the Congressional Library, after seeing the displays and exhibits, we viewed the main reading room, and the endless rows of shelves, crammed with reference books used by students and government workers. Then we were shown the Archives Building, where important documents of the country are sheltered: the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, original manuscripts. From here, we returned to the hotel, just in time for a dance held by Lee High School, one of the school bands in town for the Cherry Blossom Festival. Another party in Mrs. Witham's room.

Thursday took us to the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, where (from a distance) we were permitted to gaze fondly at 100,000 dollar bills. Then on a tour of the Capitol and White House, where the Lincoln group presented lobsters for the President to Mr. Gruthner. After this, most of us visited the zoo (and relatives), then left for the Francisian Monastery, which is a partial reproduction of the catacombs and the temple at Jerusalem. In the evening, after being given rather misleading directions by a certain group, a few of us finally got a meal in time to rush back up the same streets we had just covered to witness the Cherry Blossom Parade. While waiting for the parade to begin, we were entertained by a charming Texan, who led cheers for Sam Houston. Returning to the hotel, a party was held in Mr. Davis' room — music was supplied by two wandering minstrels.

Friday morning at 8:45, we left for NYC — it had been so lovely in Washington that we all hated to leave. Arrived NYC about three — after getting rooms, some walked several thousand blocks to Central Park — watched the ice-skaters, and rode on the Merry-Go-Round. After dinner, to Madison Square Garden and the circus — peanuts and popcorn and elephants and aerialists ! ! ! Back to the hotel again for some, while others "did the town." Saturday morning a small group went to the United Nations Building, while the majority either slept or went shopping. In the evening many of us took one last look at the city — a small group saw the play "Anastasia." At 10:30 the bus arrived, although scheduled for later — everyone was ready at 11:00, but detained briefly, we left at 11:30. Sunday morning at 9:00 17 sets of beat feet landed in Wiscasset, still rolling from the long bus ride. Reality struck us in the form of a cold wind — this was no longer N.Y.C.

And Back To School.

STATE MEET
254		10th place

Many cheers go to this year's Cross Country team who came home with the first K-L League Championship for Wiscasset High. Under the coaching of George Griffing, the boys won all their meets, and finished 10th in the state meet, ahead of several larger schools. Morrill finished 14th and Rankin 25th out of a field of 100 runners.

In the last meet of the season, Wiscasset made a perfect score against Rockland, placing five Wiscasset men in first places.

The Varsity had a successful season winning ten and losing eight games. We came in tied for fourth in the Knox-Lincoln League. Richmond defeated us 60-54 in the district tournament playoffs.

The team losses by graduation are: Guard, Stuart Wyman; Forwards, Richard Colby and Herbert Grover; Center, Jay Blagdon.

The boys will have a fine nucleus for next year with Grant Morrill, Tommy Rankin, Bobby Maybury, and Roy Shea and others back for real action!

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Girls Varsity had a successful season in the Knox-Lincoln League. They had a record of five wins and seven losses, which was good for fourth place in the seven team league.

Marlene Millett was high scorer with Judy McFadden close behind. The outstanding guards were the "Four D's", Jane Dowling, Florence Douglass, Joan Dalton, and Priscilla Dorr.

The team looses only one Senior, Florence Douglass, by graduation and the above mentioned girls, plus Marcia Stetson, Anna Fahey, and others will give Wiscasset High a fine team next year.

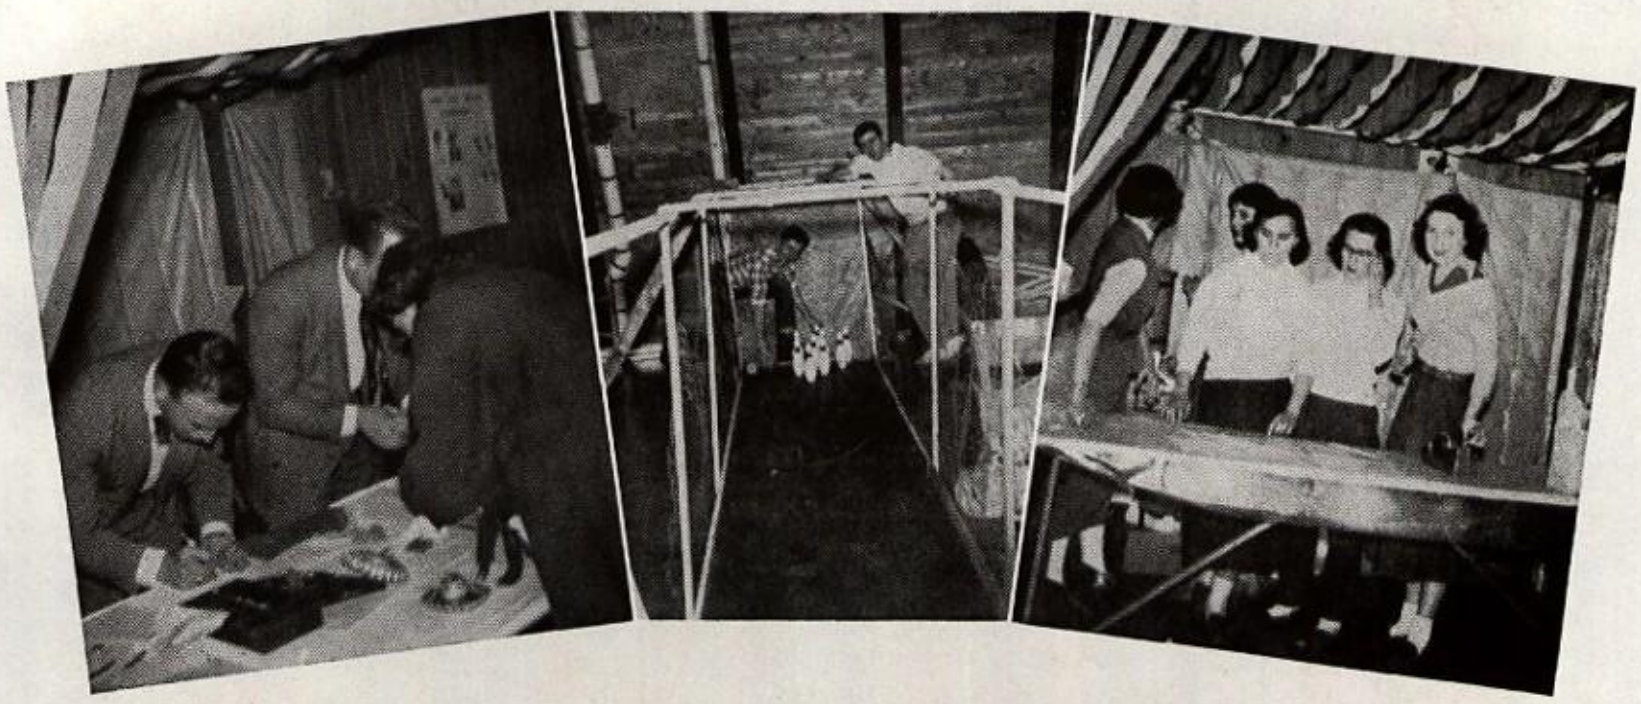
ACTIVITIES

SCHOOL FAIR



The school fair was held on March 4th and 5th — admission was 10c, to be paid each time you enter. This price included a door prize ticket.

Booths were run by the various classes: Seniors had food concessions, grab bags, ally ball game, and drive the spike. Juniors were proprietors of a basketball game, 2 dart games, happy hooligan ball game, and a money jingle board. Sophomores had ring toss, a baseball game, clothespin game, and a soda bottle rack. The Freshmen had the House of Horrors, a penny pitch, hit the monkey, ball in ring cup toss, and a pin up and pick out game.

Coronation Ball was held on the following evening.
